

Journal #2

What productive activity (this does not include sleeping) would you do if you were secluded in your house year after year?
What/who would you turn to for intellectual and emotional stimulation/interest?

OR

Would you rather be the frog in the swamp that seeks a lot of public attention or the turtle that makes very little noise?